374225454	sold to jagtech	May 18, 2011	this guy has someone else overbid the reserve and then pulls their bid and expects an underbidder who has lost interest and is no longer watching his auction to still buy it and at over reserve price----more the fool him stevie25 responded: Wot a liar!!! Dont know the other bidder! This whanger placed 3xbids! Traders beware! Timewaster! Avoid!
305416468	bought from minder4	September 2, 2010	Be careful of this guy, no money and all talk. stevie25 responded: Hm! Yes! I would ask that you guys out there beware of this guy. Checked details with my Husky agent, saw not 20yrs old but 30yrs. Further no chain brake fitted. If you don't care about serious injury (or worse) buy this. O.S.H have determined that you "must not" use a saw in N.Z. not fitted with an "inertia activated chain brake" to avoid "kickback"! Further, you are not even allowed to "advertise them" on your t/me. All talk? Least I've got my head and can still talk. Thanks Peter for your c
267028623	sold to lp14	March 10, 2010	This person does not communicate properly, tried to resolve issue had no response. said his friend died & would get back. He then 2 days later email's other buyers about the ring & then sold it twice the second time to someone else without being resolved. I was suppose to be contacted by phone to discuss a proper solution. Very dishonest trader & do not recommend this trader to anyone. VERY POOR TRADER stevie25 responded: The original auction clearly states that if "buy now" is used, the signet ring would be included. She did not do a "buy now", the item was offered at a "fixed price". She accepted, therefore the signet ring was not included with the watch. This was explained to her. A complete new auction for the signet ring gave her the chance to buy it, but it was snapped up by another trader - NOT OUR FAULT! She's also put my name for all to see, which I thought was illegal on this site!

213668873	bought from bobnads	May 15, 2009	Have not had any contact from steve 25. No sale made no cash. have contacted him with no reply. am now disposing of goods. stevie25 responded: Thanks for good feedback! Sent this guy contact details as he's in C/Church and I'm in the Wairarapa. Asked for his mobile no. and gave him mine as I needed to organise freight. Its not like you can put a gear box in the post is it? Still looking for 5 speed Isuzu MU gear box if any one reads this. You cant please everybody on this site. A bit of an overreaction as the gearbox parts were only $10.
212843907	bought from willystruck65	May 7, 2009	never heard from buyer seems likes he done that a few times stevie25 responded: Thanks for good feedback! Sent my contact details to this trader as he lives in Auckland and I'm in the Wairarapa. A mate of mine in Papakura was going to pick it up and give him the cash. As he comes down this way every two weeks he would drop it of for me. Although I sent trader my mobile no. and asked for his I got no response. I cant pay and pick up an item if they wont respond with address details! They would rather post bad feedback than call you it seems. I'm still looking for a 5 speed
184279179	bought from gmbdj	December 8, 2008	Patience is our middle name.! Since Nov 2nd we have attempted to complete the trade.We do feel let down by vain promises, excuses and virtually no communication. The previous negative feed back by others on this trader is totally justified and we join their protest !!TAKE NOTE!!

stevie25 responded:

Explained to this trader that we were involved with a serious family crises! Trademe was low on our priorities at this time! Just had more important things to take care of! You cant please everybody.

170660990	sold to stag101	August 26, 2008	This guy is full of empty promises,dont trust him.
150817192	bought from sunnyhoney	May 14, 2008	Trader was friendly, told me money had been deposited, but after 23 days of waiting paitently NOTHING! No reply to emails... If you scroll down you notice another negative feedback for a Snare Drum as this Trader didn't pay for his purchase!! Total waste of time! Fisrt negative feed back i've placed EVER! Will change feedback if trade goes. through.
134418308	bought from brianb2	February 8, 2008	Would not recommend at all. I have waited over one month for the Trader to complete the purchase and has not done so (lost my refund in the process as this has never happened before, so was unaware of the time limit). Was slow to communicate blaming stuffed computer etc. This was despite several emails to this trader. The only positive was a hard lesson for my son (who owned the drum)about the reality of trading.
95558700	sold to toots1971	April 18, 2007	we bought this item at buynow for $525.00 and wanted to come and look and pick it up,but would not let us,which we thought was suspect,he got abusive&threatening,so we put the money in his account,then he emailed us back and said we could not have the item&said he will send a bank cheque which he did days later but only $497.00 which he stole,he says hes a forestry worker and that means his items are no good,wouldnt trade again and anyone who wants to deal with this guy think again.
88798952	sold to widgie	March 28, 2007	Did not get what was discribed. Seller made changes to damaged resonator head replacing it with a worn out batter head. Would not correct error or refund, sent unfriendly emails. I paid top $ Buynow, paid quickly & I know they may make untrue comments about me. Have a look at his feedbacks. Mine are 100%
stevie25 responded:
Firstly price was $85. Snare drum stand was new & was $75, freight was $10 so she got the drum for nothing, which had a new remo head which cost me $40. I replaced the bottom head with a another which was in good acondition not worn out at all. I have been drumming for 45 yrs & havent dealt with such sour grapes for such a small amount of money. This trader did not ask for a refund.
45612241	sold to davestewart	February 7, 2006	Deal didn't go through, seller was selling on behalf was not in possession of the goods at the time he listed them.
25340305	sold to powderhounds	May 24, 2005	Disappointing trade, item advertised as ladies watch & was in fact a man's watch (verified by a jeweller and Cash Converters that I took it to). Trader refused to refund me. Worst Trade Me experience in over 300 trades so will not trade again.
stevie25 responded:
She saw photo of watch and bought it, when it arrived she didn't want it. I certainly wont be trading with this trader again
